B. PLANNING & CONSTRUCTION

The history of this building is not known with certainty. It does not appear in a June 15, 1938 serial photograph in Photoarchives (BCF - 3-70). President Bevis in speaking to the Board of Trustees on February 14, 1944 following the burning of H 301, stated that the "new bull shed at the dairy barn" had not been damaged by the fire. Emeritus Professor Kunkle is sure the building was there in 1940 and possibly a bit earlier. It was built out of Rotary funds by Ray Garrett, a laborer on the Animal Science Department staff.

See Addendum No. 1

C. DEMOLITION

The removal of this building was a part of the contract for the construction of Hewlett Hall and the greenhouses (Buildings 295 and 297), which was let on July 13, 1967.

ADDENDUM NO. 1

Professor Harold E. Kaeser says that this building was in existence when he came in 1942, and it was his understanding that the building was erected by W.P.A. between 1937 and 1939. This testimony, considered with the information in B above, point strongly to 1939 as the date of construction.

This building appears as a low structure in the background near the left side of Photograph X 22778.
